

Cross-test screening is reproducible under the declared rule but not definition invariant a Declared-point membership depends on definition b One study controls global hull membership

